

Earth Day 2020

April 22, 2020

In honor of the 50th Anniversary of Earth Day, we have posted two pieces to the News section of the Angeleno Group website. The first link is information on the history of Earth Day and its origins. The second piece is a recent post from the President and CEO of the World Resources Institute suggesting five ways — as we come out of the COVID moment — in which we can honor Earth Day and build back a better more sustainable world.

The History of Earth Day by earthday.org

Earth Day at 50: Five Ways to Honor the Legacy and Change the World by Andrew Steer, President and CEO of the World Resources Institute

Please also find in the Sustainability section of our website the recently released Angeleno Group 2019 ESG Report on our Responsible and Sustainable Investing Program and Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) initiatives.

We invite you to read our ninth annual ESG Report (www.angelenogroup.com/sustainability).